Large Slate of Candidates Vie for Village of Elm Grove, Elmbrook School Board, Wisconsin Superintendent of Public Instruction Seats

By Lisabeth Passalis-Bain / elmgrovenews@yahoo.com

As consequential as it is to select a U.S. president, senator, or congressperson or send a qualified individual to a state's legislature, I have long argued that it is also critical that we pay attention to who we elect on the local level. When governmental positions are uncontested on a ballot, unless there is a tremendous write-in campaign for someone, the lone candidate need do very little to get elected or re-elected. That is not a good thing.

Luckily, for a variety of motivating factors, a bevy of candidates has stepped forward to ask for our votes. Two residents are running for Village President; 6 candidates hope to get one of the 3 Village Trustee seats up for election; 3 candidates seek 2 different seats on the Elmbrook School Board; and 2 individuals want to be our next Wisconsin Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The News-Independent recently offered all candidates running for Elm Grove Village President and Village Trustee the opportunity to answer a series of questions and provide their photos for this story. Their responses follow on Pages 2 and 3.

“Local politics” is highly important. Those elected will have the power to make decisions which will affect this community and surrounding communities for many years to come.

Vote in-person on or before Election Day at Village Hall or request an Absentee Ballot at <https://myvote.wi.gov>.

Covid Vaccines Offered to Eligible E.G. Residents

If you are a resident of Elm Grove, either age 65 years and older or a healthcare worker, you may register to receive the Covid-19 vaccine during upcoming inoculation events at Village Hall.

Dr. Jon Robinson, Director of the Village's EMS is being assisted by a group of qualified EMS medical personnel, and local volunteers are helping with registration and administrative duties.

By the end of February, Elm Grove Emergency Services had vaccinated Village EMS, fire, police and public works employees with their first and second doses. Additionally, 195 residents have received their first vaccination, and 84 of them have been given both doses.

(See VILLAGE UPDATE – Page 4 for vaccine registration details.)

Candidates for Elm Grove Village President

Neil Palmer (I) and Mary Inden

#1. Tell us about yourself.

Mary Inden: Village Trustee 10 years; Owner The Gilded Edge, Frames & Gallery 23 years; Owner Home Staging Consultants 2000 – now; Village volunteer & Chairperson, July 4th festivities, 34 years; Multi-Tasker.

Neil Palmer: My wife, Jill Varick, and I have lived in Elm Grove for 34 years and our three children attended Elmbrook schools. I have served as Village President since 2005.

#2. What has motivated you to run for election at this time?

Neil Palmer: I am seeking one more term in order to help guide Village efforts to complete the flood control project by daylighting Underwood Creek in the Village center, and to participate in the proposal to redevelop the School Sisters campus.

Mary Inden: It's time for new thoughts and planning for this unique Community. I've been frustrated with a number of Board decisions that have been made recently.

#3. What can you offer our Village that is unique from the other candidates AND what do you most hope to accomplish if elected?

Mary Inden: With 30 years in retail, I know local businesses are vital to this Village. Volunteers are our most valuable assets, and I know that we need more women on our committees. Because respecting each other is important, we need thorough, respectful communication between the Board and the citizens.

Neil Palmer: I have deep knowledge and understanding of how the Village operates and what both the old and new challenges we face are. Village residents with conflicting interests and opinions about the best future for Elm Grove. I see the President's role as helping residents understand the pros and cons of the options available for the challenges we face.

#4. What are the greatest challenges that you see facing Elm Grove now AND how would you help deal with them on the Board of Trustees?

Neil Palmer: The greatest challenge before us is to define the future of the School Sisters of Notre Dame campus. The sisters are moving out in the summer of 2021 and have granted Mandel Development an option to redevelop the site. Mandel has proposed a combination of single-family homes and high-end apartments. Redevelopment of the campus is a unique challenge due to the desire to find a way to pay to restore and preserve the two historic structure, the cost to demolish the other buildings. Doing nothing is not an option. This site is currently zoned institutional, and I do not think any of us want to see a new institutional use redevelop the site. I believe the Board must work to get the best and highest quality new development possible. On the long term I believe the most important issue for the Village is to secure access to Lake Michigan water. Municipal water is necessary for commercial improvements, fire fighting improvements and to safeguard residential values.

Mary Inden: I will take a deep comprehensive look at the plans for opening the Creek and Downtown Master Plan... overly expansive and expensive. Pathways are great! We need to finance more. The Convent redevelopment will happen. We need to keep negotiating for size and style needed to enhance the neighborhood/Village. Municipal water from Milwaukee needs to be negotiated. We are an independent Village, and should work with our neighbors and the State to stay that way.

#5. Do you think that our Village's downtown area is healthy and successful? If not, what action(s) would you suggest to change that?

Mary Inden: Our "Downtown" businesses and buildings are privately owned successes. We need to understand that changes/enhancements come from within, with encouragement from the public/government. Having owned retail, I understand the need for walk-by and drive-by traffic to support our merchants. Village enhancements will help! We should all "Shop Local" including government.

Neil Palmer: I do not think our downtown is very healthy, despite the best efforts of some of our existing businesses. Most residents say they support efforts create a more vibrant walkable downtown. The Village Board must continue to support downtown improvement.

On the Ballot: Spring Election, April 6, 2021

Candidates for Elm Grove Trustee (3 seats up for Election)

Katy Cornell (I), John Den Boer, Tom Michalski (I), Kristina Sayas, Jennifer Stuckert, Ted Wentzel

#1. Tell us about yourself.

Katy Cornell: I was raised in Elm Grove and my husband Tim and I are now raising our five children here.

John Den Boer: I was born and raised in Waukesha, WI. My family and I are very grateful to have recently moved to Elm Grove.

Tom Michalski: I'm a retired I.T. professional, 21-year Elm Grove resident. I am active serving the Village; 15 years as a Firefighter, 10 years as a Trustee.

Kristina Sayas: My parents taught me to make a difference you must be involved. I'm a small business owner, a graduate from DePaul and Northwestern and married to a grove native.

Jennifer Stuckert: Elm Grove resident 30+ years. Past President of the EG Woman's Club who is committed to keeping EG the special place we all call home.

Ted Wentzel: I am a husband, father of 3 and marketing professional. I serve in the Elmbrook Rotary, on the Elm Grove Community Foundation board, and as Oktoberfest Chair.

#2. What has motivated you to run for election / re-election at this time?

Katy Cornell: I am a true representation of women and mothers in Elm Grove. I want to preserve our quality of life and do what is best for our community.

John Den Boer: This election comes at a time when Elm Grove is at a point of pivotal transition. Continued great leadership is needed to guide the Village.

Tom Michalski: I want to use my professional skill of listening to people to create practical solutions and move Elm Grove through this crucial period of renewal.

Kristina Sayas: That families experience joys similar to those my husband cherishes from growing up here, seeing examples of community engagement, helping neighbors and preserving our traditions.

Jennifer Stuckert: Concern over the density and the impact proposed developments will have on our community. Recently retired, I'd like to give back to the community.

Ted Wentzel: Civic duty is part of my DNA from serving in the military, coaching my kids' teams, to community volunteerism and I am excited to continue on that path.

#3. What can you offer our Village that is unique from the other candidates AND what do you most hope to accomplish if elected?

Katy Cornell: My experience as a trustee, in combination with my family history here, affords me the opportunity to understand the complexities of the issues placed before the Board. Regardless of the topic at hand, my desire is to be part of the solution and carry on the legacy of this great village.

John Den Boer: As a former Clinical Neuropsychologist, I gained significant knowledge in how to best facilitate group decision making. As a CEO, I pride myself in operationalizing and implementing decisions that are in the best interest of both financial and community. As an EG Trustee, I hope to help the entire community engage in the most evidence-based, community-level dialogue and decision making possible.

Tom Michalski: As a Village Trustee, a County Supervisor, and WCTC Board member, I have a broad perspective and understanding of the opportunities and challenges facing Elm Grove. Change is inevitable. My goal is to work with residents to manage the change in a way that preserves our values for future generations.

Kristina Sayas: I'm the Chicago girl that fell in love with Elm Grove. I'm fortunate to hold leadership positions with multiple village organizations which provides me a unique prospective of our current challenges and opportunities. I would represent the residents of Elm Grove by listening, responding and acting in their best interests.

Jennifer Stuckert: I promise to represent the residents of Elm Grove and not the developers. Development decisions have long term implications in terms of traffic, school boundaries and emergency services. Change is important to keep a community vibrant, but change MUST maintain the character of Elm Grove.

Ted Wentzel: I have lived on the east coast, west coast and throughout the Midwest and never been part of a community as unique as Elm Grove. I want to ensure balanced governance that promotes a dynamic and evolving community and at the same time preserves the character of the village.

#4. What are the greatest challenges that you see facing Elm Grove now AND how would you help deal with them on the Board of Trustees?

Katy Cornell: The redevelopment of the SSND property is an example of the challenges we will face into the future as we desire to move our village forward yet keep it committed to its heritage. As a Trustee I have learned to listen to all sides and work to find the middle. I have learned to ask questions and seek counsel, to remain open minded. Decisions require time, listening and understanding of all sides.

John Den Boer: On the surface, the single greatest overall challenge appears to be expanding the infrastructure of the Village while maintaining its integrity. This is a difficult - yet accessible - challenge if we increase cohesive community dialogue and aim for practical and solutions with empirical backing. I would assist in gathering empirically-based solutions and promoting teamwork at all levels.

Tom Michalski: Elm Grove is facing two primary challenges, the inevitability of change, and the belief among many of our residents that the elected officials are negotiating behind closed doors. You have my commitment to open governance with clear communication and easy access to me personally. The Village's long-term viability needs to be secured by quality development. At the same time, I will work to ensure all future development reflects Elm Grove's character.

Kristina Sayas: I feel one of the greatest challenges facing Elm Grove is the struggle between keeping Elm Grove a quaint village, but at the same time, finding ways for responsible economic development. Though this is a challenge, it can be done by identifying developers, businesses, and community partners that will respect the historical character of our community, and incorporate their business models into it. This would allow Elm Grove to retain its predominantly residential character.

Jennifer Stuckert: Development of downtown area so that it meets the needs of our residents first, followed by the merchants who have invested in our community. It is important to strike a balance that is a win for all. Listening, responding to concerns, understanding the why behind the question or concern. Asking questions to increase understanding; responding based on community feedback. Other challenges include roads, expansion of village pathways, daylighting of Underwood Creek and water.

Ted Wentzel: Promoting development at all costs without proper consideration for how it will affect the village's community culture. We are surrounded by a city that is growing haphazardly and continuously adding high density rental units. We cannot lose our unique sense of identity by trying to mimic those actions. I am in favor of development but feel it should be responsible and in sync with what already exists.

#5. Do you think that our Village's downtown area is healthy and successful? If not, what action(s) would you suggest to change that?

Katy Cornell: Our downtown is home to many wonderful goods and services that Elm Grove is fortunate to call its own. However, there is certainly an opportunity for enhancement. I believe municipal water and an increase in people living in the immediate area would be beneficial to the business community.

John Den Boer: Yes, but I do think that certain aspects of the downtown's infrastructure will limit its long-term vitality. These include, but are not limited to, solidifying and diversifying the financial base, responding in a dynamic fashion to the changing needs of the EG population, and supporting our aging business that have been the backbone of making the downtown an amazing community.

Tom Michalski: Historically, the Village Center was healthy and successful but has endured a long period of decline, and is currently barely viable. The Master Plan identified residents' desire for a walkable and accessible downtown with added green space. I will work with residents and business owners to achieve these goals.

Kristina Sayas: My concern is the downtown vacancies. I would work with the business association to create solutions to increase the patronage of our local enterprises and encourage them to further invest in our community. We've had great success with current village events that can be further leveraged to meet these goals.

Jennifer Stuckert: Elm Grove is charming but is in need of a facelift. I would activate and reinvigorate the Community Development Authority to purchase land/properties and then incentivize the type of local development residents would like to see. I favor incremental changes, local investment and facade grants.

Ted Wentzel: I feel the downtown is filled with successful small businesses that are frequented by my family and neighbors. We should encourage property owners and the village to continue to enhance existing structures and walkways to promote consumer traffic with an eye towards a walkable downtown village center, as discussed in the master plan.

The SSND Farm at Elm Grove

By Michele Levandoski

Archivist, School Sisters of Notre Dame North American Archives

Mother Caroline Friess, superior of the School Sisters of Notre Dame (SSND) in America, bought property in Elm Grove, Wisconsin to establish an orphanage, but she also intended to use the property as a farm that could supply food for the Milwaukee Motherhouse. The venture started small, but by the 1920s, the farm was producing large quantities of vegetables, fruit, dairy products, honey and meat, which were used to feed the residents of both Elm Grove and the Milwaukee Motherhouse.

Initially, the farm raised mostly vegetables, because the Sisters did not have money to pay workers or the necessary buildings and tools needed to raise grains. The Sisters also had a small number of livestock and poultry, which were kept on a neighboring farm. In 1863, Mother Caroline bought a working farm that consisted of 90 acres, a frame house, barns and sheds. She purchased more land in 1864 and 1865, increasing the size of the property from the original 40 acres to approximately 200 acres.

The chronicles for Elm Grove provide a nice record of the life on the Sisters' farm by recording events, such as what was planted and the yield; the birth, purchase and slaughter of animals; the erection of buildings and new ventures, such as beekeeping.

The chronicles also detail the small events that make up farm life, such as the blessing of a new cow barn and pig sty or when the Sisters received an automobile used to deliver milk to the Motherhouse. A particularly harrowing event occurred in 1892 when Sr. Gamelberta Walesch was teaching the orphan girls how to kill and clean a chicken. Sister assisted by holding the chicken's head and was accidentally struck with the cleaver. "The poor sister ran at once into the sick room, the pain was so severe that she nearly fainted." It took four weeks for her thumb to heal.

The Sisters and hired men also had to contend with problems, such as bad weather, plant eating critters and even thieves. In 1887, the men planted the first cornfield, but they ended up having to replant it, because "these horrid creatures [mice and gophers] devoured the corn plantlets with greedy haste." That summer was dry and food in the meadow was scarce, so the "poor cattle found only scanty grass and was obliged to break in, wherever possible, into oat fields and well as cornfields." Some of the cattle even broke into a neighbor's field, causing $8 in damages.

Thieves were another problem. In 1892, the Sisters discovered that their "largest, most beautiful and best cow" had been stolen. The hired men went in search and found the cow on its way to the slaughterhouse in Cudahy. In 1910, thieves stole a "pail full of milk" and three years later some daring thieves raided the chicken coop, stealing 100 hens, nine geese and two ducks.

By 1927, the farm was producing a large quantity of items, including approximately 3,200 bushels of grains, vegetables and fruit, 644 quarts of berries, 5,325 pounds of beans and 4,300 heads of cabbage a year. In addition, the farm produced 24,532 dozen eggs, 169,241 pounds of milk, 5,125 pounds of honey as well as butchered livestock and poultry.

In 1955, the congregation began selling the farm land to raise money needed to build a health care facility to care for aging sisters. In 1959, the cows were sold and in 1970, the iconic red barn was demolished. Today the only remnant of the once fruitful farm is the grape arbor, which has been producing grapes since 1886.

Next month's column will focus on the orphanage.

A Reflection:

School Sisters of Notre Dame: Building a Life Together

By Sister Joan Penzenstadler, SSND

Having been attracted to sisters when I was very young, it wasn't until high school that I knew the community calling to my heart was the School Sisters of Notre Dame. Before I even had words to sort out all the reasons, I sensed not only the richness of their life of prayer, but also their commitment to the intellectual development of women. They prayed and worked and built a life together, making a difference for the sake of the Gospel.

While still working at Mount Mary University, I have been privileged to live at Notre Dame of Elm Grove for the past five years with many of my sisters. This historic campus echoes with the celebrations we have enjoyed, the songs of farewell we have sung for so many, and the love and faith which has strengthened our bond over the years. Although we will depart this beloved campus, I pray that our spirit of faith, hope and love will continue to be present in Elm Grove.

Local Organizations Announce Project Partnership

(ELM GROVE) Variety – the Children’s Charity of Wisconsin and Scottish Rite Valley of Milwaukee jointly announce their partnership with Children’s Wisconsin and The Orthopaedic & Rehabilitation Engineering Center in support of the Go Baby Go Program. Through Go Baby Go, adaptive electronic ride-on cars are provided to children who have limited mobility and motor control. The cars allow for self-initiated mobility which aids in overall development and enhances quality of life and overall well-being, increases mobility, and increases social and peer interactions.

A check presentation was held on Sunday, January 24, 2021, to celebrate the partnership. Variety committed $10,000 for 2021 and Scottish Rite Valley of Milwaukee committed $24,000 over the next three years. This support will allow the Go Baby Go program to continue expanding and provide cars at no cost to families. In conjunction with the check presentation, three children were presented with their Go Baby Go cars each customized to meet their individual therapeutic needs.

Jay Blankenship, Director of Development of Children’s Wisconsin said, “Wheelchairs for this young population are often not covered by insurance. The modified cars provide a safe, cost-effective, age-appropriate alternative to a power wheelchair.”

“Variety’s vision is that all children can actively participate and experience the joys of childhood,” said Dua Vang-Ramirez, Director of Operations of Variety – the Children’s Charity of Wisconsin. “We are excited to partner with Children’s Wisconsin to provide adaptive ride-on cars and benefit from the expertise of The Orthopaedic & Rehabilitation Engineering Center so children with mobility challenges have a safe and fun way to explore their world. Our hope is that these special children can gain mobility, confidence, independence, and access their world.”

SMV Hosts Unique Irish-Themed Fundraiser

(ELM GROVE) St. Mary’s Visitation Catholic School (SMV) invites friends and neighbors of its school community to join them in celebrating St. Patrick’s Day by purchasing some “blarney in a box” as part of a fundraiser to support the school in many ways, including technology and special programs like the visiting art teacher that round out the school’s STREAM curriculum.

Through March 7, lads and lassies of Elm Grove and neighboring communities interested in some blarney – harmless and amusing fun – are invited to visit Blarney.Givesmart.com to purchase a variety of festive boxes, filled with Irish-themed fun and treats for leprechauns of all ages.

Blarney in a Box event co-chair Katie Carnell noted, “Instead of one big fundraiser, we’ve been holding a series of smaller events to help raise money for our school. Thanks to the tremendous sponsorship and support of community members and businesses – especially Jamie O’Donoghue of O’Donoghue’s Irish Pub – Blarney in a Box looks like it will be to be our most successful event yet!”

Pre-ordering is required to acquire a Box o’ Blarney. Pick-up is on Saturday, March 13 in the school parking lot as part of a festive day-of drive-through celebration featuring Irish music, dance, and if you’re lucky enough, a Leprechaun sighting.

Elmbrook Rotary's Puzzle Palooza Raises $10,000+ for The FOOD Pantry Serving Waukesha County

By Larry Myers

The Elmbrook Rotary Club held an online silent auction, February 12-19, to raise funds for The FOOD Pantry Serving Waukesha County. The FOOD Pantry has seen an increased need for food distribution during the global pandemic.

Called Puzzle Palooza, the auction idea came from the spouse of an Elmbrook Rotary member. She noted that many people have enjoyed working puzzles during the pandemic and that the fundraiser was an opportunity to pass along these gently-used puzzles since most people only work a puzzle once.

The online auction had over 200 items, including some new puzzles and puzzle company gift cards. $10,000+ was raised through bidding on gently-used puzzles and cash contributions (both matched dollar for dollar with a grant from the Elmbrook Rotary Foundation).

Karen Tredwell, Executive Director of The FOOD Pantry, reports that pantry usage was 30% higher in April, May, & June of 2020 compared to 2019, and increased usage has remained comparable this year. The FOOD Pantry is currently serving about 6,000 individuals per month throughout the entire Waukesha County area.

For safety protocol purposes, food distribution now occurs outside, even in subzero weather. Virtual curbside delivery is also possible by pre-ordering.

Ms. Tredwell also explained that cash donations go further because of reduced prices at outlets such as "Feeding America." Cereal, milk, fresh fruits & vegetables, formula, baby food, canned fruits & vegetables, and proteins are especially useful and needed.

Tredwell had this comment about the Elmbrook Rotary's generosity: "Each and every year we rely on a compassionate community to assist us in getting the resources to serve our people. We were excited to have this very unique and fun fund-raiser called Puzzle Palooza, and we find it very heart-warming."

After the outbreak of COVID-19 in 2020, Elmbrook Rotary also contributed $7,694 to The FOOD Pantry for emergency relief. Thus, in the past 10 months Elmbrook Rotary has provided more than $17,700 in assistance. Pantry staff have indicated that the funds from this most recent fundraiser will be used to operate a new mobile food pantry at Elmbrook School District's Burleigh Elementary School.

Spring

By Marylin Lowden

8th Grade, St. Mary's Visitation

Spring is a lovely time of joy and cheer
 With grass of green and bright blooming flowers.
 This season rolls around this time
 each year
 Bringing pleasure, and nice scents to walkers.
 Spring is a time for cleaning and picnics.
 With Kind-hearted people, and fun pastimes.
 You can run in the fields with your friend
 Nick.
 Although the rain comes down a lot sometimes.
 That is what makes Spring a peaceful season.
 With birds chirping, and lawn mowers
 chopping.
 Children are playing for many reasons.
 It could be that the rainfall is stopping.
 Maybe it's the smell of the Spring time air.
 Or the joy in Spring that everyone shares.

St. Patrick's Day

By Adriana S., homeschool, grade 6

Happy St. Patrick's Day!
 I hope lots of luck will come your way!
 Like seeing leprechauns and wee folk,
 Who knows, you may find one
 if you look.
 Or maybe you'll see a rainbow
 and follow it to the end
 and find a pot of gold!
 Or, perhaps when you're digging,
 you'll find one that's very, very old!

Midnight Baking

By Maeve Steger

8th Grade, St. Mary's Visitation

The setting sun hides behind the lush hills
 As the moon rises the sky glows deep blue
 The quiet howling wind fills the ears
 A candle lit house giving a gold hue
 The fireplace cracking with wood ablaze
 A ring from the kitchen is a sweet cry
 The steam from the oven
 has the room a haze
 Gentle hands pull a fresh blueberry pie
 Setting the pastry down on the table
 Careful not to touch the burning hot dish
 Cutting the pie as best they are able
 Biting into the pie causing a squish
 There through the window
 the moonlight has shown
 A little old lady sitting all alone

 I enjoyed "The Naval Treaty"
 Tolkein, Shelley, Poe, Doyle, and Twain wrote the classics along with the others
 Authors, from 'round the world

The Love Of Reading

By Bria Lanthier, 5th Grade – Tonawanda

I have sailed the Titanic.
 I have swam in the big, deep blue.
 I have been to Europe,
 Maybe you have, too?
 I have seen the sky-high mountains and I have cruised all Seven Seas while soaring high in the breeze.

I have ridden a horse,
 A wild one of course...

No one's been on adventures like me!
 I can be anywhere in 1, 2, 3!
 No more fun?
 The book is done!
 But no worries...
 Another one's yet to come!

Springtime

By MaryGrace Schlifske

8th Grade, St. Mary's Visitation

In springtime ice starts melting very fast
 Nature changes from white snow
 to green grass
 There are often skies that are overcast
 It's interesting to see how seasons pass
 I love the good feeling of warmer days
 Tulips and daffodils are sprouting up
 Nature is growing in different ways
 Where is all the pretty snow,
 yelps my pup
 Weather changes from snowy days to rain

 basketball games
 Water is flowing from skies to the drain
 Basketball winners will get lots of fame

"Poof"

By Amelia Harmelink

4th Grade - Tonawanda

You wake up in the morning
 And what do you see?
 A tiny green leprechaun just like me!!
 You search around the house
 for candy and galore
 Saying, saying, saying "I want more!"
 You sprinkle the house from head to toe in green sparkles then blow, blow, blow!
 You stumble across the toilet and you're a little surprised that it is green!
 And not the regular white!
 Then suddenly something green
 flashes in your eye,
 It's not and apple it's not and toy,
 It's a little boy!
 But not a normal one oh no it's too small to short and has a tiny nose
 "It's a leprechaun it's a leprechaun"
 you yell
 Then it flashes away
 and no one believes your tale.

When a Man Needs a Haircut...

By Marci Richards

Mary The Beautician who works at Elm Grove Hair Designs was kind enough to come to our house and cut my husband's hair. He (Donald Whitaker) calls her Mary The Barber and she doesn't get upset but as a man he's not yet used to calling the person who cuts his hair a beautician.

As he aged, he needed someone near home and I found Mary and for years he has gone to see her at Elm Grove Hair Designs. Most times he is the only man in the shop. Unfortunately, at age 95, he has had problems with congestive heart failure and recently had a new aortic valve placed. He was then re-hospitalized with more congestive heart failure. His hair was getting long but he could not travel to see Mary. I called her and she was kind enough to come to our house and give my husband a haircut.

These are the kind of gentle kind people that we have working in our lovely Village.
